Terms and Conditions

Customer is responsible for disc content and unless hired to do so, BullseyeDisc does not modify or test disc content. BullseyeDisc respects the privacy and security of Client's data & intellectual property. Our products are warranted against manufacturing defects in quality and workmanship. Customer must make any claims of quantity shortage or nonconformity to BullseyeDisc in writing with reasonable particularity within five days following the date of delivery. The Customer's sole remedy, and BullseyeDisc's sole obligation, for nonconforming products shall be, the replacement of nonconforming products. This limited warranty does NOT apply to any product that has been subjected to misuse, negligence, or accident. Artwork is printed within tolerances of a reasonable match to an exact match. Client understands that because duplicated discs are created using recordable media, the discs may not play on all drives and players. Embedded CD Text and ISRC codes are usually not preserved through duplication. BullseyeDisc will do everything possible to make delivery dates, however, delivery dates are estimates and BullseyeDisc shall not be liable for any delays in delivery.

Customer represents and warrants to BullseyeDisc that (1) Customer owns and/or has the right and authority to possess, use, and duplicate any and all materials provided for duplication; (2) neither such materials, nor the duplication or use of the same in any way is defamatory or violates or infringes any copyright, trademark, patent, other intellectual property right or any other right of any third party or entity and will not cause injury to any third party or entity; and (3) such materials are not vulgar, obscene or invasive of public or private rights and do not give rise to civil liability or otherwise violate any local, state, or federal law or regulation.
